

MAJOR WAS CRAZY WHEN HE ORDERED WOUNDED SLAIN

War Criminal Trial Judge Explains Why Gen. Stenger Was Acquitted.

LEIPZIG, July 7. (Associated Press).—Dr. Schmidt, President of the Supreme Court, in announcing the acquittal of Lieut. Gen. Karl Stenger of the charge of having ordered the execution of wounded French soldiers and prisoners, and the conviction of Major Bruno Crusius on the same charge, declared that an experienced officer like Crusius should have known Gen. Stenger was incapable of giving such orders. Crusius was sentenced yesterday to two years' imprisonment and was deprived of the right to wear the German uniform in the future.

"It has not been established that Stenger gave the order of which he is accused," said Dr. Schmidt. "The executions, which undoubtedly occurred, cannot be imputed to him."

"Crusius was not responsible for his actions on Aug. 25, owing to mental derangement, but on Aug. 21 he knew quite well what he was doing. The actions of Crusius were due to negligence. He thought Stenger had given the order to finish off the wounded and prisoners."

BERLIN, July 7.—The Tageblatt says to-day that Lieut. Gen. Stenger, after his acquittal, was hailed with loud cheers. Four Frenchmen who attended the trial in behalf of the French Government were received with cries of "Shame!"

During the course of the trial Dr. Sernau, an alienist, testified that Crusius had been sent home from the front a nervous wreck, and repeatedly told him that "his soul collapse was chiefly due to the ghastly scenes witnessed on the battlefield incident to Gen. Stenger's order to shoot wounded men and prisoners."
